

her MISSION

Combat Creations™ exists to equip military families with supplies, ideas, and techniques for preserving their unique experiences in original, meaningful, and creative ways.

her VISION

Combat Creations™ provides a service and a place for military families to come together; unwind, share stories and create. Connie aims to positively impact the lives of all military families around the world, with support programs and events, which maintain loyalty and pride amongst military families.

Connie brings military scrapbooking products to her customers, and also consults with manufacturers to maintain the integrity and accuracy of these products.

her SERVICES

COMBAT CREATIONS™ offers the following services...

- Retail Storefronts
- Retail Online Sales
- Wholesale Distribution
- Custom Manufacturing
- Consultation
- Instruction for Educational Events by the Combat Croppers™
- Designing

IT'S WHAT she KNOWS...

Connie spends time researching all the military products in the marketplace, selling those items at Combat Creations scrapbook store™, and employing over 20 military spouses!

IT'S WHAT she DOES...

The combat croppers™ Design Team includes...

- 4 Full-time active duty spouses
- 3 Part-time active duty spouses

Combat creations™ has successfully developed its own military line and is currently distributing its products to retailers across the globe and to military installations.

IT'S WHO she IS...
A military spouse!

...SCRAPBOOK supplies for our military families™

Combat Creations™ formed in 2005 when a military spouse, Connie Campbell, bought an existing scrapbook store and transformed it into "THE" Scrapbook store for military families. This 1400 sq ft stand-alone scrapbook store is on the main drag of Western Blvd. in Jacksonville, NC, right outside Camp Lejeune Marine Corps Base. The store is dedicated to military and civil service scrapbook items, broken down by branch, and has handmade crafts from various military spouses. It serves as a retail storefront as well as the distribution center.

An area in the middle of the store serves as classroom for crafting classes, meetings, and a party area. All but two employees are active duty Marine spouses with numerous children. Combat Creations is a pseudo-support group for a turbulent lifestyle, and creative outlet for all. The General Manager, Colleen Francis, has moved twice since becoming an integral part of the company, and her husband is preparing for another tour to Iraq this fall. The Store Manager, Robyn Leonard, is getting ready for her husband to head back to Iraq for a third tour in as many years.

Connie Campbell, owner, now runs the store from Yuma, AZ, with her four boys in tow. This is her sixth house in nine years, with five long deployments under her belt. "It's a wonderful feeling knowing we can touch people's lives with our products and services. Honoring our families and heroes accurately is vital to the success of this industry, and I'm proud of what Combat Creations has accomplished since it began," states Connie.

